Featured Project Swea City Assisted Living Center

Swea City, Iowa

A 16-unit assisted living center with attached medical clinic opened this summer in Swea City, Iowa. Wilcon began construction in November 2009, shortly before severe cold and heavy snows struck the region. Fittingly, perhaps, the building was completed this June, when heavy rain, wind, and tornado activity created a final set of challenges for the contractors.

The building features one- and two-bedroom apartments and one efficiency unit for guests. Amenities at the assisted living center include a large multi-purpose room with attached catering kitchen. Seating and dining areas in the multi-purpose room and two separate sitting areas provide ample space for social interaction.

Each apartment features a small kitchenette.

A fireside gathering area in the great room.

The main entrance provides convenient access to the great room and to the attached clinic.

Meals will be served in the spacious dining room.

When And How We Honor Our Veterans

The following are excerpts from the prize-winning essay of 12-year-old Andrew Kinnetz:

When should we honor our veterans? We shouldn't have to ask when, because this should be a natural daily routine by all Americans who like their freedom of speech, religion, and the right to bear arms. We should honor them by thanking them for the sacrifices that they have made and for helping us to keep the freedoms we have.

The Pledge of Allegiance should be said by every student in every school no matter what their ethnic background or beliefs are. This is a way to show respect and acts as a reminder for the valiant veterans that have given so much. They leave their families, give up their jobs, and endanger their lives to keep us safe. These men and women must be away from friends, family, good food, comfort and safety for a long period of time. These men and women are the ultimate heroes of the United States of America. They should be honored every day by every American no matter what.

Andrew Kinnetz is the son of Lynette and Denny Kinnetz. Lynette works as a project manager assistant at Wilcon and also handles the Human Resources duties. Denny is one of many American veterans to whom each of us owes a great debt of gratitude.
